1 (In chambers.)

2 THE COURT: Counsel? Gaspar, are you there?

3 MR. CASTILLO: Good afternoon, Judge.

4 THE COURT: Gaspar, the first thing I have got to 5 talk to you about, I got notified by the clerk's office, the 6 jury gal there, that you owe dues for 2011.

7 MR. CASTILLO: Really? I didn't know that.

8 THE COURT: Yeah. They said that they had notified
9 you before.

10 MR. CASTILLO: Yeah, I'm sure I was, but I thought
11 this was taken care of by my office. I'm glad that you're 12 telling me and I'll take care of it right away.

13 THE COURT: You got to, right, or you can't be
14 coming here.

15 MR. CASTILLO: I'll take care of that right away.

16 THE COURT: The second thing is, I just want to
17 know, do you have any response? The government made a motion
18 for discovery. Your responses were due yesterday. I don't
19 think you responded, did you?

20 MR. CASTILLO: Well, Judge, here is my position on 21 that. Mr. Olmsted has been very open with his discovery,
22 probably given me more than I could have ever asked for, and
23 it's literally hundreds and hundreds and hundreds of pages; I
24 couldn't tell you how many. I can tell you that I've got
25 them organized into binders and divided and I think I have 12

1 binders so far. And he recently sent me some more. And I
2 believe that there is more that's coming.

3 And I'm going to do my best to abide by the trial
4 date that you gave, but I'll tell you right now, it's an
5 awfully hard task to go through all that stuff and I've been
6 working on it diligently. I'm talking about trying to do
7 several hours every day on that one file and it's incredibly
8 difficult to not just to read it, as you know, but to read
9 it, absorb it and connect it with the other stuff.

10 THE COURT: Got you, sure. Well, there are 11 pretrial papers due next Monday also from you. Are you going 12 to have them in?

13 MR. CASTILLO: Yeah.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MR. CASTILLO: I guess I was hoping, Judge, that
16 you would consider giving us more time for a trial.

17 THE COURT: I think Mr. Olmsted is ready to go.

18 MR. CASTILLO: I'm sorry?

19 THE COURT: I think Mr. Olmsted wants to go.

20 MR. OLMSTED: Well, we will get prepared to go,
21 Your Honor. I know that we had originally suggested a later
22 trial date when we got this trial date with the notification
23 that there wasn't going to be a delay. We realized as a
24 precaution we better start getting ready. On the other hand,
25 we thought that Mr. Castillo was going to ask for more time,

1 which we would not oppose. We have been getting ready. But
2 if we have to go to trial, we'll go to trial and our papers
3 will be ready on Monday.

4 THE COURT: I think everybody's moving along. I'm
5 going to hold your feet to the fire, both sides, and I want
6 to get this thing done. So that's basically all I wanted to
7 check with, to make sure that you got your biannual fee paid
8 there and you were aware, and get your paperwork in as quick
9 as you can. Okay?

10 MR. CASTILLO: Okay, Judge. Thank you.

11 THE COURT: Thanks, Mike.

12 MR. OLMSTED: Thank you, Judge.
